

INNOVATOR'S

COMPASS

We all face increasingly complicated, uncharted challenges every day - from our daily actions to big decisions, alone and together. What if at any moment we could all access powerful directions that have helped us and other find better ways forward--or just get unstuck? This question fuels us in this passion work, and the tool that's emerged--used from preschools to the US Conference on AIDS and communities in rural Africa, the Innovators Compass. Please go to innovatorscompass.org for samples and downloadable copies.

START EXPLORING--WITH AND FOR THE PEOPLE INVOLVED.

Just make some space to ask these questions - on paper, board, screen, in your head, a conversation, use a worksheet or app in resources. Go wherever moves you forward! Let thoughts out. When you're not sure, just add a "?" mark and explore with those questions in mind. Or follow the numbers. A way to remember: think POPIE ("pop-y" like popping out of your stuck): People, Observations, Principles, Ideas, Experiments and back to what happens for all involved (#1 & 2).
