

POST CARDS

Capturing how people are feeling in a moment can help build the team's culture and create a safe environment. Using prompts and pictures to encourage sharing can help groups feel more comfortable and connected.

DIRECTIONS:

Display a collection of wild postcards for participants to view. Have each person choose a postcard that resembles how they are feeling at that time. Participants share out with the group.

